HTML - Embedding

Definition

Embedding allows us to put content into our websites from some source other than ourselves

We usually embed videos, photos, or audio

Popular web services usually allow you to embed their content

Video

While we don’t have to, it’s usually easiest to embed a YouTube video if we want video in our sites.

They give embed HTML code under the “share” button

Embedding from YouTube gives Google some control and power over our content, which is a risk.

Do not use embedding for photos

Use a photo-hosting site like Cloudinary to host your photos, then use an <img> tag to put the photo in your website.

Again, there is risk with using a photo-hosting site
